Abstract:

Fatigue is recognized as one of the most common presenting complaints in individuals infected with SARS-CoV-2, the cause of the current COVID-19 pandemic. Pre-existing diagnosis of depression is associated with severe post-COVID fatigue. In traditional Chinese medicine, fatigue, depression symptoms are all associated with energies deficiencies. The purpose of this study is to demonstrate that patients that is acquiring Sars-Cov-2 infections have energies deficiencies in the internal massive organs (Liver, Heart, Spleen, Lung and Kidney) prior to Sars-Cov-2 infection and can aggravate their symptoms after the treatment instituted. Methods: Through two clinical cases reports of patients that had Sars-Cov-2 infections and reported chronic fatigue symptoms after Sars-Cov-2 infection treatment. These patients did the measurement of the internal organs energies through radiesthesia procedure before they acquired Sars-Cov-2 infection. Another research did by the author studying the energy of the internal organs in a thousand patients during 2015 to 2020, prior to COVID-19 pandemic, were included in this study. Results: It was revealed that all the internal organs were in the lowest level of energy. The treatment to replenish the energy of these organs were started weeks before the Sars-Cov-2 infection and it was sustained after the Sars-Cov-2 infection treatment, for a period of one year or more, using highly diluted medications according to the theory created by the author entitled Constitutional Homeopathy of Five Elements based on Traditional Chinese Medicine.
