The conference was initiated with the Excellences of the keynote forums:

Title: Bio-functionalized colloidal nanoparticles for therapeutic applications

Miriam Colombo | University of Milano-Bicocca | Italy

Title: Oxide nanomaterial by non-hydrolytic sol-gel process

Johan Alauzun | Charles Gerhardt Institute Montpellier | France

On receiving positive outcome for the conference from Attendees and Delegates we are glad to put forth conducting “5th International Conference on Nano medicine and Nanotechnology”

Nanotechnology 2020 will be held during April 22-23, 2020 at Bangkok, Thailand. The main theme of the conference is “Contemporary trends in Nano medicine and Nanotechnology”

Nanotechnology 2020 provides an opportunity for speakers from all over the world to fulfill their network, and understand new scientific research innovations in Nanotechnology. It is also a great platform for researchers, practitioners and educators to present and discuss the most recent advances, trends and concerns as well as practical challenges and solutions. The application of nanotechnology in medicine draws on the natural scale of biological phenomena to produce precise solutions for disease prevention, diagnosis, and treatment. Nanotechnology extends the promise of developing multifunctional materials that will contribute to building and maintaining lighter, safer, smarter, and more efficient vehicles, aircraft, spacecraft, and ships.

Allied Academies is started in the year of 1994. The main aim of this organization is to conduct conferences and publish articles within the realm of business and management. We are looking for young researchers, eminent persons from the academic and business executives to achieve success for the growth of the scientific community from all over the world. By 25 years of excellence, we supposed to provide the best keynote speaker, best speaker, and best poster awards and are facilitated with certificates.
