

Conference Announcement: 8th International Conference on Cardiology and Cardiovascular Medicine.

Isabella Gomez*

Accepted February 18, 2021

The Global Cardiology Congress aims to provide expert insight into recent advances in key areas of cardiology, and a balanced perspective on how these may influence guidelines and patient management. The conference will cover an array of topics including sub-specialties such as Cardiac Diseases, Cardiac Surgeries, Cardiac devices, acute coronary syndromes, valvular heart disease, Cardiac Oncology and pacing, as well as prevention, and heart failure. The vision behind this global congress is to serve as a unique global platform for cardiologists, cardiac surgeons and researchers from world-renowned institutions to share and exchange new ideas about clinical studies and advancements in dealing with cardiac diseases.

Cardiology congress have a wide scope globally in guiding cardiology students, cardiologists, scientists, research scholars, medical practitioners, leading medical industries to champion professional and social relationship with sister organizations and actively concur within the analysis and safe utilization of the medicine with honor and ethics. These major scientific events comes up totally analyzed to proffer the best prospect for the academicians in terms of collaborations to undertake the International workshops, to present their research, and trade professionals in terms of exhibiting their products & services. The scientific conferences include oral and poster presentations, seminars, and workshops from the professionals working within the field of Cardiology.

*Correspondence to:

Isabella Gomez

E-mail: cardiothoracic@escienceopen.com