Editorial Note: Gynecology and Reproductive Endocrinology.

Lesia Ostapuik
1 National Pirogov Memorial Medical University, Vinnytsia, Ukraine

Keywords: Editor Note

Editorial Note
I am delighted to introduce Allied academies journal Gynecology and Reproductive endocrinology (ISSN: 2591-7994) a peer reviewed scholarly journal that addresses various aspects of menstrual disorders, adenomyosis, postpartum purulent-inflammatory diseases, neuroendocrine syndromes, infertility problems, etc. and I am pleased to announce that all the issues in volume 3 were published within the stipulated time along with print issues brought out and dispatched within 30 days of publishing the issue online.

All published articles of this journal are included in the indexing and abstracting coverage of China National Knowledge Infrastructure (CNKI), CiteFactor and Secret Search Engine Labs.

The objective of AAGRE is to publish up-to-date, high-quality and original research papers alongside relevant and insightful reviews. As such, the journal aspires to be vibrant, engaging and accessible, and at the same time integrative and challenging.

The journal is bringing a special issue on ongoing pandemic Coronavirus under the title ‘Assessment and management of Pregnant woman with suspected or confirmed COVID-19’. Authors are cordially invited to submit their current research activities and outcomes in the form of any article type of science communication such as original research, review, expert opinion, commentary, short note communication to our Journal.

During the calendar year of 2019, AAGRE received a total of 20 manuscripts, out of which 10 articles were rejected in the preliminary screening due to plagiarism or being out of the format and peer review process. During 2019 around 10 articles were subjected for publication after they are accepted in the peer review process. A total of 10 articles were published (at an average of 3 articles per issue) from authors all around the world. Globally articles have been accessed by the research scientists and also cited.

I take this opportunity to acknowledge the contribution of (Dr. Lesia Ostapiuk) during the final editing of articles published and the support rendered by the editorial assistant, in bringing out issues of AAGRE in time. Our reputation and visibility in the academic community continues to broaden, and our editorial board constantly reassesses and revises the editorial process to ensure the most efficient and satisfying experience for both authors and staff. It is due to the support of our faculty advisors, the hard work of our editorial staff that we were able to bring out issues of AAGRE in time and look forward to their unrelenting support to bring out the Volume 4 of AAGRE in scheduled time.

We are open to cooperation from all researchers, that deal with the reproductive health of the women in order to improve it, which is very important nowadays.

Gynecol Reprod Endocrinol -Europe 2020 Volume 4 Issue 1