

Editorial note on Archives of General Internal Medicine

Yoshiaki Kikuchi

Professor of Neuroscience at Graduate School of Tokyo Metropolitan University, Japan.

The Archives of General Internal Medicine, Allied academies publication, is an international prominent journal which published articles globally in the prime field of immunology, endocrinology, gastroenterology, nephrology, pulmonology, cardiology, anesthesiology, gynecology, neurology, psychiatry and radiology and its applied fields and return it to the forefront of conceptual developments in the discipline. It is an open access and peer reviewed journal by eminent Editorial Board and the manuscripts are peer-reviewed by potential reviewers according to their research interest.

For the last 4 years, published papers have been under the strong and able leadership of our Editor-in-Chief's Dr. Samuel N. Forjuoh. Especially, we are thankful to for his continuous support and dedication towards the journal will not lost. We the publication office of Journal of Internal Medicine including me, we all are very honoured and grateful for his selfless devotion towards the journal.

We provide a rapid turn-around time possible for peer reviewing and publishing the article online and to disseminate the articles freely for research, teaching and reference purposes

Scope of the Journal

Archives of General Internal Medicine encompass diagnosis and therapeutic approaches of adolescent medicine, critical care medicine, sleep medicine, sports medicine, plastic surgery, addiction medicine and preventive medicine. Manuscripts showcasing recent developments in modern treatment practices including dialysis, bronchoscopy, angioplasty, cardioversion, cardiac ablation, intra-aortic balloon pump and nuclear radiology are solicited. The principal criterion for publication is potential impact on patient care.

The Journal is using Editorial Manager System for online submission of manuscripts, tracking and management of the manuscript processing. All the submitted manuscripts undergo a peer review process under the aegis of an assigned Editor prior to acceptance and publication. To be acceptable for publication, an article should be positively considered by two individual reviewers followed by the Editor's consent.

The archived content of the journal represents the track of progress made in this field over the past year. The information gathered by the journal functions as resource of refined knowledge for academicians, scientists, physicians, clinical and medical professionals. The volume of information contained on the journal web-site is contributed by authors from different regions of the world. Due to these reasons' readers hailing from diverse professional backgrounds and regions are interested in the journal content.

Applied Strategies in 2019

We have applied many strategies in 2019, i.e.

- Using contacting through Mobile (Whatsapp) phones
- Sent Call for papers for the eminent in the field
- Approaching the Editors suggested eminent
- Approaching potential reviewers for the Call for papers
- Maintaining the frequency of articles

I wish to provide some perspective from the cycling research community of Archives of General Internal Medicine with regard to a recent Editorial note of our Journal. I solely believe that the quality of the journal is based on the Eminence presence in the Editorial Board as well as Reviewer Board (potential reviewers) who strive to make the papers significantly productive and helpful for the scientific community.

Stay Safe & Healthy...!

Thank you!

With kind regards,
Ayan Michael,
Associate Managing Editor,
Archives of General Internal Medicine