The International Webinar on Antibiotics was hosted online on November 21, 2020. This webinar was successful in bringing together renowned speakers from various reputed organizations and their paramount talks enlightened the gathering.

The ways we have developed, used, and protected antibiotics have led, predictably, to our current crisis of rising antibiotic resistance and declining new treatments. If we want to stave off a post antibiotic era, we need to fundamentally change our approach. We need to challenge long-standing assumptions and cherished beliefs. We need to push through the reflexive resistance and excuses (e. g, “that’s not how we do things” and “that can’t be done”) that result from challenging established ways.

Excuses abound. Action is needed. Ultimately, we need a coordinated national action plan to combat resistance.
