

Initial Announcement for International Conference on Palliative care and hospice care

Matthew Ellman Samuel

Professor, Palliative Care, Yale School of Medicine, USA, E-mail: mathew.samuel1996.ms@gmail.com

It is a privilege to us to host International Conference on Palliative care and hospice care is going to be held on July 08-09, 2020 at Amsterdam, Netherlands.

The Purpose of two days conference is to bring together Researchers from around the world who are interested in Exploring the knowledge and new Happening on palliative and hospice care. This event will make precise formulation of the problem in palliative and hospice care research.

The convention will focus on topics in palliative and hospice care, such as hospice and palliative education, Gerontology and Geriatric palliative care, pediatrics hospice care, health care management, hospice nursing and mental health of palliative care.

The aim of Hospice Care conference is to bring different peoples from around the world in the field of palliative and hospice care such as World's renowned experts, scientists, scholars, business entrepreneurs, medical device manufacturing units and industrialists, Associations and societies, surgeons, students in palliative and hospice care to discuss about the knowledge, innovative ideas and different solutions for problem in Palliative and hospice care.

The Palliative and hospice conference is framed to hold various other events such as workshops, Exhibitions, poster presentations, key note speeches, plenary lectures, symposium and others.

Hospice care focuses on weakening the pain, symptoms, physical and mental stress that a seriously sick patient goes through whereas being treated. The goal of the care is to assist those who are dying have peace, comfort, and dignity. The caregivers will try and manage pain and different symptoms thus an individual will stay as alert and cozy as potential thus providing some type of relief to the persons' family too.

Benefits of attending:

- Opportunity to sharpen your view by learning new skills in a varied hospice and palliative care environment
- Can learn new information and tactics from other presentations at Hospice Care conference
- Can converse with hospice and palliative care scientists from various universities and even countries you may have only heard or read about

- Helps to improve your hospice and palliative care research work by getting feedback from the experts and influencers in the field of hospice care and palliative care

- Opportunity to visit Amsterdam where the conference is being held and learn about its people, culture and attractions

- Great opportunity to connect with attendees from different views and perspectives, make new relationships, and strengthen existing ones

- Accelerate academic reputation

- This Conference will aim to draw an attendance of Hospice Care, Palliative Care, geriatrics, Women Health, Gynecology, Health Care, Cancer and Nursing from academia and business.

Target audience:

Hospice and Palliative Care specialists, Healthcare communities, Clinicians and researchers, Obstetricians, Geriatricians, Physicians, Geriatric Physicians, Hospice nurses, Medical administrators, Women's Healthcare Associations and Societies, Gynecologist, Palliative Care Nurses, Women's Healthcare Researchers, Nurses/Midwives, Geriatric Specialists, Occupational Therapists, Healthcare school, Social employees, Community care coordinators, Business delegates and trade professionals, Researchers, Students and others interested in the field of Medical Care.

Hope this conference will be more interesting, and useful for all the attendees from around the world and You will have a pleasant time in Amsterdam for two days of the conference.

