17th International Conference on Oncology Nursing and Cancer Care organised to be held on 4-5 March 2020 is based on the theme innovating the future to Fight Cancer is all set to succeed in its aim in the sparkling city of Edinburgh, Scotland. Cancer Nursing 2020 has gathered its Organising Committee Members and is happy to announce their collaboration with the esteemed event. The eminent profiles have given their consent to participate and raise awareness about the recent achievements in the field that could be essential in paving a better path for nursing of oncology and treating cancer patients.

The first lines up of Organizing Committee Members include:

Adrian Udrea, the Chief Medical Officer of Medisprof SRL from Romania. He has a keen interest in clinical trials in oncology and has a proven track record of professionalism with more than 80 successful clinical trials, most of which have been conducted in Medisprof. The position of Chief Medical Officer along with the difficulties of leadership has also shown him the perspective of future achievements with a proper team. His efforts and the research team has made it possible for Medisprof to be a landmark of Romanian Research Site. As a recognition of the intensive efforts put by him and his team, in August 10, 2018 they received the QOPI certification from ASCO.

Abdalla AboTaleb, the Project manager of World Health Organization, Egypt. With expertise ranging from HTA & reimbursement policies to regulatory and supply chain strategies, Dr Abdalla is one of the most profound experts in healthcare policies and regulations. He has extensive experiences in pharmaceutical, biologicals, & vaccines due to his involvements in the fields of health economics, outcomes research, Health policy reforming and reimbursement policies within the healthcare industry for 15 years. Currently he works for WHO as a project Manager at the healthcare reforming area along with which he is an active researcher with many publications across different well recognized organizing including ISPOR, ESMO, ASCO, ECCO, iHEA, HTAI and EuHEA. Examples to mention his contributions in changing the healthcare policies across Egypt are his contributions to the establishment of the NORCB (national organization for control and research of biologics), Egyptian Biosimilars guidelines the cancer and MS registry & guidelines. Establishing stroke units & guidelines, hospital based HTA and Health economic unit at ministry of health in Egypt's different sectors. Multiple engagement efforts are well recognized in his research through introducing concepts of stakeholder engagement. He also does that by being an active member of many research organizations internationally and locally like the ISPOR and its local chapter. He remains a very rich source of developmental initiatives having been hands on expert across different sectors of the healthcare systems and a visionary for healthcare reform.
